

5. Senate Hall (Senaatszaal)

History

Until 1970, the Senate Hall was a common room in which professors held meetings under the chairmanship of the Rector Magnificus. These meetings concerned subjects such as education and research, educational facilities as well as student affairs. The Senate Hall came into use in 1924. The walls have been hung with a portrait gallery of the university's own professors. This collection was first started in 1685 and was added to in various phases in later times, until it eventually came to comprise 185 portraits in the Senate Hall as well as more than 500 in the University Hall and other university buildings.
