

Overview U.S.E. Seminar Series 2018

Nir Vulkan, Oxford University

The trade-off between ownership and investment: Evidence from equity crowdfunding campaigns

Jose Manuel Chamorro, Universidad del Pais Vasco

Valuation of real options in crude oil

Coen Teulings, Cambridge University

Agglomeration and Sorting

Karl Wennberg, Linkoping University

Meso-level networks, institutions and entrepreneurship

Bogdan Dima, West University of Timisoara

Post-Modernization and Socioeconomic Transformation: A Non-Materialist Approach

Ivanka Visnjic, ESADE Business School

Which Services? How Industry Conditions Affect the Choice of Services Offered by Manufacturing and Software Firms

Tim Barmby, Newcastle University

Labour Economic History from Below: Agency and Incentives in 19th Century Metal Mining

Paul Smeets, Maastricht University

Inequality Preferences: Evidence from the Behavior of Millionaires

Rotem Shneor, University of Agder

Crowdfunding - trends, opportunities and challenges, research agenda and invitations for collaboration

Gauthier Vermandel, Paris-Dauphine

Weather Shocks, Climate Change and Business Cycles

Andrew Jones, University of York

Equity, Opportunity and Health

Fushu Luan, Xi'an Jiaotong - Liverpool University

Institutions and Innovation: Evidence from Chinese Cities

Gaaitzen de Vries, Rijksuniversiteit Groningen

Measuring International Production Fragmentation and Its Impact on Global

Martin Berka, Massey University

Deviations in real exchange rate levels across the OECD members and their structural determinants

Julien Labonne, Oxford University

Making policies matter: Voter responses to campaign promises

Magnus Henrekson, Research Institute of Industrial Economics

Institutions for Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Jona Linde, Maastricht University

Anchoring in Bargaining