Law vs Custom in Anchoring Innovation
An Anchoring Innovation Workshop
University of Amsterdam
22-23 March 2019

DRAFT PROGRAMME

Friday, 22 March (VOC Zaal, Bushuis, Kloveniersburgwal 48)

9:00-9:15  Welcome

Session 1: mos and Innovation in the Roman Republic
9:15-10:00  María García-Magán, ‘A custom of novelties. Anchoring innovation through oratory in the Roman Republic’
10:00-10:45  Irene Leonardis, ‘How to define mos at the end of the Republic: re-anchoring normative custom with reason and Greek philosophy’
10:45-11:15  Morning tea

Session 2: Law and Custom in Greece 1
11:15-12:00  Alexandr Loginov, ‘Law and poetry in Mycenaean, Homeric and Archaic Greece’
12:00-12:45  Elon Heijmans, ‘Money and legal tender in early Greece’
12:45-14:00  Lunch

Session 3: Anchoring in Justinian’s Novellae
14:00-14:45  Key Tengeler, ‘The power of precedent. Making use of past legislation and tradition in Justinian’s Novellae’
14:45-15:30  Silvia Schiavo, ‘Anchoring innovation in Roman law. Justinian, law and custom: the case of Nov. 106 and Nov. 110’
15:30-16:00  Afternoon tea

Session 4: Law and Custom in Greece 2
16:00-16:45  Punsara Amarasinghe, ‘Amalgamation of customary norms and written codification: Examining the legal reforms of Solon in ancient Athens relating to criminal justice’
16:45-17:30  Aitor Luz Villafranca, ‘Fourth-century Greek monarchy: a political theory and practice between custom and law’
17:30-18:00  Drinks
18:00  Keynote: Soazick Kerneis, ‘Between law and practice, the birth of a customary law in the late Empire’
Saturday, 23 March (Belle van Zuylenzaal, Universiteitsbibliotheek, Singel 425)

Session 5: Law and Custom in the Roman World

9:15-10:00 Peter Candy, ‘Law and custom in Roman maritime trade’
10:00-10:45 Anique Hamelink, ‘From toga to trousers: the laws and customs of Roman dress’
10:45-11:30 Lina Girdvainyte, ‘Manumission by consecration in Roman Macedonia in light of the Antonine Constitution’

11:30-11:45 Short break

11:45-12:30 Roundtable discussion (over coffee)

12:30 End